

Press Release

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

INS Digital Media Launches New Website insWebsites.com

June 19, 2007 - INS Digital Media LLC, an insurance industry web design and marketing company, today officially announced the launch of their new website - www.insWebsites.com. The website launch is part of a larger effort to further inform and connect with the insurance community by offering focused solutions for insurance agencies and other financial services firms.

INS Digital Media is continuously improving and expanding its products and services and the website is no exception. INS Digital Media will continue to roll out new features, web designs, and resources for insurance agents in the coming year. INS Digital Media remains dedicated to delivering high quality and professional websites, informative content, and effective web marketing services to reflect their leading position in insurance website design and marketing.

The new website better communicates the website products and marketing services offered to independent and captive insurance agents and expands the portfolio of current insurance clients and success stories. The new website also replaces other company websites primarily used for marketing purposes.

Other new and expanded website features include client support area, online invoice payment with credit card, and online order form for the Ready Made agency websites.
